

Workshop # 2 of the SocialSciencesNet

ARCHAEOLOGY & CULTURAL AND SOCIAL ANTHROPOLOGY: UNITY AND DIVERSITY OF SCIENTIFIC CULTURES AND OF THEIR ORGANIZATION BETWEEN EAST AND WEST

October 26 - 27, 2001
Bucharest, New Europe College

(The SocialSciencesNet is coordinated by the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme, Paris, France, and financed by the European Commission)

October 26, 2001

Welcome: Andrei Pleșu, Rector of the New Europe College

Introductory speech: Hinnerk Bruhns, Director of Research at the CNRS, Deputy to the Administrator of the “Fondation Maison des Sciences de l'Homme”, Paris,
Coordinator of the SocialSciencesNet

Session I: The Role of Archaeology and Cultural and Social Anthropology in Constructing Identities

Edouard CONTE, Directeur de recherche au CNRS, Paris
Nation, généalogie et appartenances au Moyen-Orient

John Victor TOLAN, Maître de conférences, Département d'histoire, Université de Nantes
Using the Middle Ages to Construct Spanish Identity: Nineteenth- and Twentieth-Century Spanish Historiography of Reconquest

Predrag NOVAKOVIĆ, Assistant Professor, Department of Archaeology, Faculty of Arts, Ljubljana
National Identities and Archaeology in Former Yugoslavia

Elke-Nikole KAPPUS, Assistant Professor, Ethnologisches Seminar, Universität Fribourg
The Construction of Nationhood: Ethnography, Anthropology and Politics in Istria

Julianna BODO, Researcher, Center for Anthropology and Regional Studies, Miercurea Ciuc
Chances and Challenges for the Anthropologist Working on a Minority Group

Smaranda VULTUR, Maître de conférences, Université de Timișoara
Le récit de vie comme objet anthropologique

Session II: The Evolution of the Disciplines Within Different Political and Cultural Contexts During the 20th Century and their Prospects of Development, Between East And West

(I) Archaeology

Mircea BABEȘ, Professeur, Faculté d'histoire, Université de Bucarest, Directeur de recherche, Institut d'archéologie « Vasile Pârvan », Bucarest
L'archéologie roumaine en « transition »

Andrzej PRINKE, Senior Keeper, Poznan Archaeological Museum, Head of Archaeological Heritage Service for Poznan Province
Between Research Projects and Free Market Economy: Recent Trends in Polish Archaeology

Alexandru NICULESCU, Senior Researcher, Institute of Archaeology “Vasile Pârvan”, Bucharest
Theory in Romanian Archaeology

(II) Anthropology

Vintilă MIHĂILESCU, Chargé de recherche, Centre d'études anthropologiques « Francisc Rainer », Bucarest
A quoi bon une anthropologie par ces temps de transition ?

László KÜRTI, Secretary, European Association of Social Anthropologists (EASA), Professor, University of Miskolc, Hungary
The New Anthropology of the New Europe: Questions and Answers

Ivaylo DITCHEV, Associate Professor of the History and Theory of Culture, University of Sofia
New Keywords, New Images. Bulgarian Politics of Self-Representation After 1989

Ursula JARECKA, Researcher, Institute of Philosophy and Social Sciences, Warsaw
The Relevance of Media Studies for Anthropology in the Conditions of Globalization

Zoltán ROSTÁS, Associate Professor, Department of Journalism, University of Bucharest
Did the Anthropological Practice of Dimitrie Gusti's School Survive?

Saturday, October 27

Session III: Changing Borderlines with Neighboring Disciplines

Christian GIORDANO, Professor, Ethnologisches Seminar, Universität Fribourg
The Challenge of Historical Anthropology

Arkadiusz MARCINIAK, Associate Professor, Institute of Prehistory, University of Poznan
The Twisting Paths of Cooperation Between Archaeology and Anthropology. The Example of Poland.

Barbara WALDIS, Assistant Professor, Institute of Ethnology, Neuchâtel
Anthropology in Switzerland As an Integrating Social Science?

Silviu COPOSESCU, Associate Professor, University "Transylvania", Braşov
Romanian Anthropology Between Empiricism and Transcendentalism

Marian KEMPNY, Associate Professor and Senior Researcher, Institute of Philosophy and Social Sciences, Warsaw
The End of Ethnography - the Beginning of Anthropology? Changing Disciplinary Boundaries Within the Field of Social Sciences: the Polish Case and Wider Trends

Session IV: Institutional Settings and Research Structures Between East and West: Their Relevance in the Development of the Disciplines

(I) Education

Andrey KOROTAYEV, Professor, Russian State University for the Humanities, Head of the Program “Social Anthropology of the East”, Moscow
Development of Socio-Cultural Anthropology in Russia: Some General Trends and Factors

Enikő MAGYARI-VINCZE, Associate Professor, University Babeş-Bolyai, Cluj
The Condition of Anthropology In-Between Institutional Structures and Individual Performances

Marius LAZURCA, Maître assistant, Faculté des lettres, philosophie et histoire, Université de Timișoara
Comment l’anthropologie se fait-elle une place dans les programmes universitaires, en prenant pour référence la situation à l’Université de Timișoara

Nona PALINCAȘ, Senior Researcher, Institute of Archaeology “Vasile Pârvan”, Bucharest
The Archaeological Diggings as “Authorized Destructions” and the Role of Higher Education in the Field of Archaeology in Romania

(II) The Museum As a Specific Institutional Setting

Irina NICOLAU, Directrice, Direction des programmes ethnologiques et action culturelle, Musée du Paysan Roumain, Bucarest
Le retour des « savants » au musée

Ioana POPESCU, Chef du département d’anthropologie visuelle, Musée du Paysan Roumain, Bucarest
L’image documentaire – une dernière illusion

Anca MANOLESCU, Rédactrice en chef de la revue Martor, revue d’anthropologie du Musée du Paysan Roumain, Bucarest « Martor », l’interrogation retrouvée : pour une lecture partagée et plurielle

Anick COUDART, Directrice de recherche, CNRS, Paris
Le projet du réseau des Maisons des sciences de l’homme en France : « La construction identitaire dans les sociétés passées et présentes : le rôle de l’archéologie, de l’ethnologie et de l’histoire »

Nathan SCHLÄNGER, Scientific Coordinator of the AREA Programme (Archives of European Archaeology), Institut National d’Histoire de l’Art, Paris
The Archives of European Archaeology: A Memory for the Discipline